

Performance Ability Tuning A Kiss The Fish Workshop

Overview

Studies of performance psychology show that an individual's personal performance success will vary day to day and week to week. There is an opportunity for everyone to improve their personal effectiveness by gaining a better understanding of how they are motivated and how to more effectively control what drives them to achieve success.

1 Day Workshop

This exciting and dynamic Workshop will show you how you are motivated and what the blocks are for you in securing continuing success. Delegates start by completing a motivational profile which will reveal how they are "driven" day to day. They will also be asked to complete a personal achievement plan in which personal targets for success will be explored.

The Workshop leaders will enable delegates to practically define what they can achieve with a change of attitude and the application of skills which they are currently "hiding". The Workshop has a very powerful session on creative thinking and problem solving which gives delegates the "intellectual and emotional powerhouse" required to achieve their dreams and ambitions.

The KTF Value Commitment

Each delegate will receive a SDI (Strength Deployment Inventory) personal motivational profile and performance plan based on personal desire and commitment.

KTF are committed to getting a result for our customers and we are happy to state that if delegates for this Workshop find that the content is not practical we will refund the payment.

Open Workshops (one day) £275 per delegate.

Business Link Members £175 per delegate.

Workshop will run from 10am-4.30pm
